Quarter 1 Report
August 15, 2018 – October 31, 2018
The DC Office of the Ombudsman for Public Education is an impartial, independent, and neutral office that uses mediation and conflict resolution to resolve complaints and concerns for parents and families regarding public education in the District of Columbia. The Office uses an “Activist Ombudsman” approach. We believe it is our responsibility to speak out against the systemic inequities that hurt our city’s children.

ombudsman

/ˈɑmˌbʌdzmən/
noun
An “entrusted person” or “grievance representative”
Role of the Education Ombudsman

• Respond to complaints and concerns, and serve as an informational resource to families and students.

• De-escalate and repair relationships through creative problem-solving and conflict resolution techniques.

• Provide technical assistance to community organizations, LEAs, and education stakeholders on public education issues.

• Act as an early warning system of new, emerging issues and trends to school leaders, education stakeholders, and elected/appointed officials.

• Leverage case trends to contribute to city-wide conversations regarding cross-sector education systems to effect systemic change.
This shows how the Office of the Ombudsman primarily works with disputes during the disagreement and conflict stages of the DC Dispute Resolution Continuum*. It is in these stages where we complete our one-on-one case management. We use the data from those cases to form recommendations to create systemic change in hopes of preventing similar disputes in the future.

*Based on the CADRE Continuum Framework
Our Core Values

Ensure Access
- Our office aims to ensure access to equitable public education for all students, regardless of race, class, income, disability status or ward of residence.

Address Issues
- We address issues that are brought to our attention by providing direct intervention for students and families;
- We also address these same issues on the systemic level through our engagement with local, state, and national education leaders.

Amplify Student and Family Voice
- Our office serves as a venue for families to have voice in directly addressing the issues their student is facing and the school level.
- In many instances such issues are systemic inequities that are causing our children, particularly children of color and students with disabilities, to fail.

Reduce Systemic Inequities
- We believe it is our responsibility to speak out against the systemic inequities that hurt our city’s children.
- We believe that through our work, and in our partnership with families and schools, we are creating a barrier-free system in which education equity is the primary focus. Such a system will allow students and families to benefit fully from their public school systems.
During intake, we ask a series of questions to determine the scope of the callers concerns and to determine if further consultation and actions are required.

During consultation, we work to understand the caller’s perspective and help identify additional issues and contributing factors.

During Intervention we work as an impartial third party to help reach a resolution.

We understand that sometimes there are other partners who can better address the issues— in those cases we make a referral.

Our process is designed to allow for a resolution at any point. We use the data we collect from cases to:

- Refine our processes and practice
- Develop and provide technical assistance to schools and local education agencies; and
- Create policy and systemic recommendations.

Ways We Serve:
Examples of Our Practice and Our Support for Families

Engagement - School Environment

A fourth grade student who stopped doing his classwork and homework because he became dejected from getting in trouble multiple times and being seen as the “problem child.” He became at risk for academic failure. We mediated a meeting to help the school come up with alternative ways of addressing any behavior problems and addressing his triggers.

A fourth grade student who has a developmental delay and speech impairment has suicidal ideation as a result of bullying, which her mom feels the school has handled dismissively. We connected the parent to the school’s bullying coordinator to help develop a safety plan and arrange a victim transfer.

Disability - Special Education

A ninth grade student was retained three times and unable to attend class due to her crippling anxiety and severe emotional disturbance. We coached the family through obtaining an IEP evaluation and advised the school to implement accommodations through a 504 plan until results of evaluation were complete.

A fifth grade student diagnosed with ADHD and hallucinations couldn’t be around a lot of people without misbehaving. He has been on a 504 plan for several years, which is no longer effective. We coordinated a placement meeting with the school to identify a better placement with smaller class sizes.

Access

A third grader with autism and anxiety/mood disorder was suspended after a behavior tech took away a magnet that his teacher allowed him to take outside of the classroom. His mom felt that the situation was handled inappropriately due to his diagnoses. We coordinated with the principal to share necessary accommodations with each teacher to prevent reoccurrence.
Ways We Serve:
Our Work with Schools & Education Leaders

While we work with students and families, we also partner with LEAs and other education stakeholders in the following ways:

Schools & Local Education Agencies

- Mediating conversations between families and between families and LEAs.
- Providing technical support to LEAs on revisions to bullying and discipline policies.
- Researching policy on per-pupil funding reimbursement post enrollment count.
- Advising schools on how to implement McKinney Vento law and support families dealing with homelessness.
- Developing an individualized case report for a charter LEA to update their policies and procedures.
- Working with schools to plan out the implementation of services needed for a student with a disability or in need of behavior supports.
- Providing guidance and recommendations on new policies and procedures.

Other Education Stakeholders

- Advising Council of the District of Columbia Committee on Education of developing a discipline floor to keep students in schools.
- Advising school founders on family engagement.
- Identifying discipline issues unique to charters for the Government Accountability Office.
Contact Summary – Quarter 1
This chart represents all cases from August 15 – October 31, 2018.

This shows the total number of contacts our office received in Quarter 1 and what type of action was taken in response.

It also shows how many of those contacts (emails, calls, referrals) became cases that our staff actively worked to resolve.
